COLONIALS BEAT FORDHAM

Chips

Substitutions: Fordham—Neilan for Ryan, Honich for Feaster, Beatt for Gripp, Ryan for Neilan, Scully for Cleveland, Devey for Bruce, Hermanot for Devey, Kloppenburg for Garvey, O'Shea for Neilan, O'Connor for O'Shea, George Washington—Sapp for Clapper.

How much longer are we going to have to put this at the head of our column, while a raft of two-hundred-pounders loll on campus benches and drink cokes in Quigley's?

Think of it! Cheer leaders actually had to exhort the crowd to keep still during signal-calling, and the roar was deafening each time the Colonials made a touchdown. Unheard of at G. W. . . Really, however, such pleasant happenings should not be marred by the gripes of lugubrious and senescent columnists. We must be true. Rollo boys, and grin from ear to ear.

What got our goat, and really left us pale, sick, and quivering was the audacity of a score of happy Georgetown men who invaded the Victory Dance, given by the K. A.'s in Corcoran Hall, and sang the Blue and Gray with the usual eclat, elan, and quel fromage. Even the efforts of Ford Young, Jerry Sickler, et al. in rounding up the stage and getting them to sing the Buff and the Blue, did not take away the sting.

But, as a matter of fact, what makes us feel that we are used to Dixie Cups, Mid-Victorian anti-macassars, and general superannuated gadgets, is the discovery that our addition to the Campus Course Catalogue of last week is all wrong. At the aforesaid K. A. Dance, our Mr. Sickler performed again, snakes and all. We rushed into the outer darkness and drowned ourselves in a barrel of Ginger-Mint Julep.

Joe Davis Walstrom, the Blond Beast, has resigned from The Hatchet Board. At last part of the pernicious Swedish influence is gone from our little paper. The only Swedes left are Johnson (and he being a brunette, must be merely feigning his Swedishness, and the estimable Betty Wiltbank, formerly of Stockholm . . . But what we wanted to get across was that the Rev. Mr. Walstrom is going to have a Silly Number of The Ghost, after the Football Number appears, in which the entire staff of the publication can relax and let nature take its course.

At least one faculty member was not responsible for the spirit with which this fair Alma Mater beat Fordham. The class had assembled. There were two notices on the board. The first was: "Big Pep Meeting Friday Night. Everybody out." Beside this was one announcing the meeting of the University departmental clubs of the University. This pedagogic called attention to the latter event by saying, "I want every one to take notice of the announcement on the board. Not this one" (pointing to the Pep Meeting notice)—THAT DOESN'T CONCERN US."

We can only be charitable and hope that the above quoted fount of learning had astigmatism and did not realize the purport of the notice.

After reading all the columns in the N. Y. papers (sorry, but we can't think of the names of any of 'em), and several in what are termed with more or less justice, fresh water dailies, we are convinced that what we need is a good controversy on "who" and "whom." We will start it off with this classic, "Whom are you dragging to the party?"

Our motto for this week: Lotsa Bear Meat from Ursinus and some Nittany Lion steaks.

The Delts are back in the council. Thus endeth a mysterious political episode. . . And the entire intertribal basketball schedule is rearranged. Still, we notice, Kappa Sig and S. A. E. are paired together for the last game in their league. An old, old rivalry to be carried on again. We really can't think of anything clever to say about this; it's too late at night.

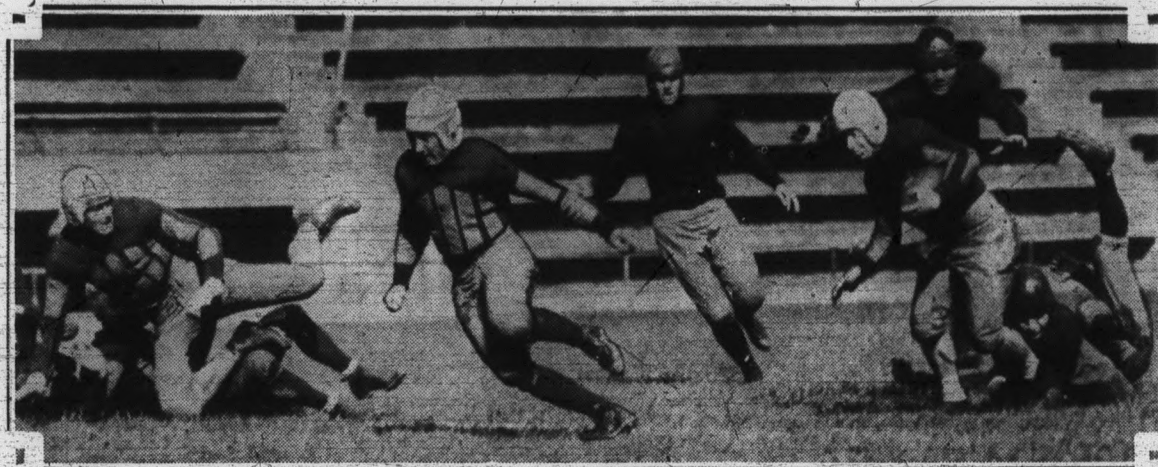

Sophomores in the Med School, after working over stiffs all last year, performed their first autopsies last week, and half the class passed out. Quick, Watson, the needle!

Chips has gone completely to the Bow-Wows this week, including Rin Tin Tin, Strongheart, Buffle and Blooley, if any. Even the Burroughs Adding Machine (or maybe it was a Comptometer) has broken down now.

Don't cry, little boys and girls. I'll be with you again next week. Your little friend,

DICK ROLLO.

JOE WALSTROM, HATCHET BOARD MEMBER, RESIGNS

Gives up Work to Devote all His Time to Ghost

Joe Davis Walstrom, member of the Board of Editors of The Hatchet, has handed in his resignation from The University Hatchet to take effect upon action by the Board.

Joe is giving up his work on The University Hatchet in order that he may devote all his time to the Ghost, the George Washington humorous publication of which he is editor this year and was humor editor last year. He leaves The Hatchet with the experience of literary editor last year, dramatic critic year before last, and member of the Board of Editors this year. He is treasurer of Pi Delta Epsilon honorary journalistic fraternity, a member of Theta Upsilon Omega, and a senior in Columbian College.

DRAMA TRYOUTS REVEAL TALENT

Students Interested in Dramatics Try For Places on Executive Staff

MANAGER MOULTON TALKS

Selection of Play Will be Made at Next Meeting; Officers to be Named

Tryout for positions on the executive staff of the Dramatic Association, held last Wednesday night, revealed a number of new students who are interested in dramatics.

Presiding at the meeting held in Corcoran Hall, General Manager Edward Moulton, spoke to the group in attendance on the reorganization of George Washington University Dramatics, and the opportunities that are open to students during the first year of the new plan.

Under the new arrangement, it was pointed out, the whole University is working for the success of the venture, as guided by the members of the Board of Directors. With such excellent backing, the first students who come into competition for positions stand the best chance of having their work recognized after the first production has been presented.

Board Members Talk

Other members of the board followed with short talks, outlining various features of the work required in properties—costuming, publicity, advertising, programs, and stage managing. After the meeting, the managers of departments, Betty Wiltbank, Marion Campbell, Pern Henninger, George Spangler, Max Tendler, and Kenneth Yearns, interviewed the students present and discussed the Association more in detail.

At the next meeting of the board, in addition to the naming of assistants, selections of a play probably will be made.

G. W. MASONIC CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING

G. W. DEBATERS MEET BRITISH TEAM NOV. 18

Williamson, Seymour, and Kirkland Members of George Washington Team

BRITISH TRIO MAKING TOUR OF U. S. SCHOOLS

Pacifism Subject of Debate; Coach Farnham Now Holding Workouts And Practice Debates

The G. W. Varsity squad which will meet the three-university team from Great Britain in the Gymnasium on the night of November 18, is having a thorough work-out in practice-debating under the tutelage of Coach Farnham. The question resolved: "That the most effective attitude toward war is an uncompromising pacifism," was presented for preliminary discussion at the meeting of the Columbian Debating Society last Friday night. The Varsity spokesmen who will support the negative of the question against John Bull's men are especially-fitted to participate in the oncoming event because of their long experience on the platform, and their previous encounters with English debaters.

The men representing G. W. are as follows: William Williamson, former Varsity debater who met Cambridge here last fall, and stellar member of the team which visited England last summer; John L. Seymour, who made the western trip with last year's forensic squad clashing with such schools as the University of Cincinnati, Ohio Wesleyan, and Butler College; James Kirkland, who last fall battled with the Cambridge linguists here.

Three Schools Represented

The Empire squad is made up of a trio representing three universities in Great Britain: The University of Edinburgh; the University of Redding, and the London School of Economics and Political Science. The three men who were selected, are experienced in debating, and active in politics. They are making a tour of America, in which they will meet most of the principal schools.

It has been the policy of George Washington in the past to meet representative foreign schools on some timely topic each year. But this is the first time that a team of this type has opposed G. W. in debating circles, according to Cyrus Hoagland, manager of Men's Debate. Much interest has been demonstrated in these yearly parleys, and this season promises even more enthusiasm than in the past. Those who have attended other English-American debates anticipate the ensuing discussion with pleasure.

BOTANY STAFF ADDS GRAD

Miss Anne Hoff, latest addition to the members of the faculty, was recently appointed an Associate in Botany.

Miss Hoff graduated from George Washington in June, 1924, and since her graduation has studied at Radcliffe, where she received her Master's degree last year.

STUDENTS' MAIL

Students who have mail addressed in care of the University can obtain same by calling at the Information Bureau, in Building 1. There is already quite an accumulation of mail there awaiting claimants.

G. W. WOMEN TO MEET WEST VIRGINIA ORATORS

Monroe Doctrine Will Be Subject of December Tilt

Ruth Kernan, manager of Women's Debate, announces that George Washington will hold its first debate of the year with the University of West Virginia, early in December, on the Monroe Doctrine. The side which George Washington will support has not yet been decided, nor have any further details been arranged. Tryouts will be held about the middle of November.

George Washington defeated West Virginia two years ago, debating the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the Pending Child Labor Amendment to the Federal Constitution Should be Ratified."

TO ELECT CLASS OFFICERS NOV. 3

All Nominations Will Close at Noon, Friday, Says Dean Doyle

TO USE SECRET BALLOT

Dr. West Will be in Charge of Voting; Five Nominations Already Made

The date of election for class officers has been changed from October 29 to Thursday November 3, according to a statement just issued by Dean Henry Grattan Doyle. Nominations which will end at noon, Friday, October 28, have already been started. Dean Doyle said, and five Columbian freshmen have been nominated to class offices to date.

Dr. West announced yesterday that five names are necessary to back nominations in Schools of Engineering and Education, but twenty are needed in Columbian College. Students on probation are ineligible to hold office.

Elections Combined

Freshmen of Columbian College and the School of Education will vote together, as will the sophomore classes of both schools. The School of Engineering, however, will hold separate elections.

Nominations so far are as follows: For president of senior class in School of Engineering, George B. Campbell; for president of Juniors in the School of Education, Nana Sullivan. The five Columbian freshmen that have been nominated are: Theodore W. Caroline Thomas Fitch, for president; Caroline Jackson, for vice president; Russell Coombes, for secretary, and Frank Linton for Treasurer.

Dr. Warren Reed West is in charge of the elections. They will be held between 10:30 to 1:00, and 5:30 to 7:30, in the gymnasium. The "Australian," or secret ballot system will be used, under the general supervision of the Department of Political Science.

Six Vacant Positions

As The Hatchet is about to go to press, word comes from the Registrar's Office that there are six vacancies in the list of officers of the various

DONALD KLINE AWARDED FONTAINEBLEAU HONOR

Donald C. Kline, graduate of last year, who studied in Fontainebleau last summer, won one of the eight diplomas awarded annually among the group of fifty who attended. From Fontainebleau Kline went to Italy and Switzerland, but has returned to George Washington to take a position as instructor in the Architecture department.

HATCHET ELEVEN PULLS SURPRISE; DOWNS FORDHAM

Powerful Gotham Team Bewildered by Agile Buff and Blue Offense

TOUCHDOWNS SCORED BY CAREY AND WALKER

Latter's 55-Yard Run is High Spot of Game; De Lany Shines For Maroons

By KINGSLAND PRENDER

By virtue of its decisive and unexpected victory over Fordham, 13-0, in Central Stadium last Saturday, the undefeated George Washington University football team swept into the realm of ranking eastern elevens.

More than 6,000 enthusiastic fans cheered to the echo as the powerful New York machine fell bewildered, before the determined onslaught of the greatest aggregation developed by Coach "Maud" Crum.

The Colonials, using exactly twelve men while the Maroon called on twenty-one, consistently gained more ground than their opponents. The victors were compelled to enter the fray without their captain, Dave "Reds" Allhouse, one of the greatest players ever to play for the Buff and Blue.

"Reds" broke his left ankle in the Rutgers game, a week ago Saturday, and will be out for the rest of the season. He was, however, perhaps the most interested spectator at the Fordham battle, at times seemingly forgetting his injury to shout words of encouragement to his mates.

It was singular that Jimmy Carey, the man who filled his leader's post at right end should make the first touchdown; singular, too, that Homer Walker, acting captain, should be the outstanding star of the contest, both on the offense and defense. Homer seemed to be in every play, either getting his man, making an opening for his backfield or breaking up or snagging enemy passes.

Pass Nets Score

Forward passes were the direct cause of the Gothamite downfall, five of their seventeen having been intercepted, with only three completed. One pass, thrown by Delaney, was "stolen" by Walker who ran fifty-five yards through a breakdown for the second Colonial touchdown. Ivan Stehman's drop kick was blocked, but as Fordham was offside, the point was awarded to the Hatchetites.

It was the superior air game of the Colonials which netted them the first score. With the ball in the possession of the Crummen on the fifty-yard line, they launched a perfect overhead attack.

Henry Sapp, brilliant triple-threat man who was inserted at the critical moments, heaved the pigskin to "Shorty" Sanders, pigmy field general, for a twenty-yard gain. This was immediately followed by a perfect pass to Carey who dashed the remaining twenty yards for the touchdown. Stehman's drop kick barely missed the posts.

Play was slowed up by the heat and lengthy debates, the first half requiring about an hour, whereas the regular

G. W. U. GETS $10,000 GIFT OF ROCKEFELLER

President Marvin Announces Donation at Pan-Hellenic Association Meeting Last Tuesday

Ten thousand dollars has been given the University by Rockefeller Foundation. President Marvin announced at the meeting of the Pan-Hellenic Association Tuesday, October 18, the manner in which this fund is to be used was not disclosed.

General plans for the University for the next two years were outlined. Dr. Marvin pointed out that this year's standard of George Washington University reaches and exceeds that of the first class colleges of the United States. To maintain this position a general tightening of requirements in all departments of the University is taking place, which necessitates more intensive study on the part of the students. Congratulations on this new program were received by President Marvin from the Carnegie Institute.

President Marvin impressed upon the association that the vital duty of each student is to take the responsibility of the University upon himself. He noted further that the school and the various departments of the U. S. Government offer to George Washington University students unusual advantage for research and comprehensive study, and opportunities for practical application and illustration of their working knowledge.

ORGANIZE A BAND

The powerful Fordham football team was vanquished last Saturday afternoon, as everyone knows, but another fact is evident to those who witnessed the affair. More than twenty-five hundred of those who attended the clash were George Washington students. Their cheering was more than gratifying, but there was a sad lack of singing on the part of the rooters. In other words, George Washington students showed a real measure of enthusiasm in cheers, while the attempted "Hail to the Buff and Blue" fell flat.

All that is required to insure good singing at a football game is a band, no matter how small, to take the lead and give the fans a start in the right pitch. It certainly seems that there is at George Washington sufficient talent to organize a musical organization of this nature. If the Pep Club wants to do something really worth while, then let them take the initiative, and see what can be done to accomplish this.

THE ENGLISH DEBATE

With the international debate less than three weeks in prospect, it is not inappropos at this time to suggest that the Gymnasium, while admirably suited to athletic contests is hardly the appropriate place for a verbal encounter, no matter how hotly contested.

Those who attended the debate last year will recall the utter impossibility of hearing back of the first ten rows of seats. They also will remember the acute discomfort attaching to some two hours and a half spent on a folding chair.

Aside from the matter of acoustics and seating comfort, the more subtle question of "atmosphere" should be considered. Two years ago the international debate was held in Memorial Continental Hall, and in these beautiful surroundings the occasion took on a dignity and significance which is impossible of achievement within the four bare walls of the "Tin Tabernacle."

The international debate is one of the outstanding events of the year. Let's give it a proper setting.

COOPERATION ASKED

Recently the Hampden-Sidney Tiger, the newspaper published by Hampden-Sidney College, borrowed the cut for the Hatchet cartoon "Don't Shoot Mister, I'll Join Your Frat." The October 15 issue of the Tiger contained an editorial expressing its appreciation of the Hatchet's courtesy and says in part:

"Why can't there be more cooperation between student publications like this example cited, than there has been in former times. It is, and always should be, a policy that is really worth while. A progressive policy, for it shows that there is something in one newspaper that is worthwhile for another paper; an interesting policy, for it shows that one editor is watching what another editor is doing or saying; and a democratic policy, for it shows that the editors of the different papers are trying not only to make their own publications good, but every student publication better."

BOOKS WANTED

It is one of the articles of our faith that all departments giving graduate courses should have a seminar library. We are opposed, however, to a seminar library being composed of all the books on the subject in the regular library school library. The English seminar room contains practically all the English books in the University except the novels of Bulwer-Lytton. The English Department is very generous in allowing the undergraduate students to use the seminar room. The drawback is that except on nights when there are seminars, the English library is closed. Thus the reference books in English are never available at night.

Plays, poetry, and novels are read oftener by the average college student than any unassigned work. Many students not majoring in English would like to refer to books which are at present in the seminar library—under lock and key.

THE situation on the campus this week shows a change of tactics from an attack to a state of somewhat armed neutrality, caused by the beginning of "closed dates." These supposedly give the sororities a chance to fight the decisive battle without enemy interference. There has been surprising concentration on the main objective this year, with correspondingly few skirmishes among the attackers. This is doubtless due to the limited time and is a point in favor of the new plan of campaign.

Zeta Tau Alpha, entertained at a Progressive Dinner Party on Thursday evening. Each course of the dinner was served at a different house. Our congratulations to the girl who managed to have the after-dinner coffee at her house!

Miss Margaret Wheeler gave a dance for the rushees and active members of Phi Delta at her home in Chevy Chase on Saturday, October 15. An exhibition tango was the specialty of the evening.

The annual Apache Party of Chi Omega was held at "The Green Rat" night club (otherwise known as Elsie Talbert's attic) on Saturday, October 15. Miss Dorothy Lewis officiated behind the bar and seemed to be entirely familiar with the work. The guests included a number of the freshmen girls and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, wife of the President of the University.

Lambda Phi Mu Medical fraternity held its annual smoker at the Colonial Hotel on October 22.

We noticed that very few men on the campus were at formal functions Wednesday night, mainly due to the fact that the Pi Phi's had borrowed their "Tux" to wear to the Arrow Club Dance which they gave that evening.

the Grace Dodge Garden House. Kenny Mulford's orchestra will furnish the music and several attractive specialists have been arranged.

Among the week-end guests at Annapolis last week were Margaret Bouve, Ruth McArthur and Margaret Rees.

"Daddy" Brand accompanied the freshman football squad to Manassas last Friday, where Coach Avis' yearlings played the Swaleys Preps.

David N. Laux, former gridiron star at G. W., and now residing in New York City, visited at the Sigma Nu House over the week-end.

A large number of Sigma Nu's from West Virginia visited the local chapter last Saturday night.

The Sigma Nu's will give their annual Hallowe'en Dance at the chapter house on "N" Street, Monday, October 31. The house will be attractively decorated and unique noise-makers and favors will add to the evening's entertainment. Emory Daugherty's Club Lido Band will furnish the music for the occasion.

The Washington Alumni members of Sigma Nu were entertained by the active members at the chapter house on Tuesday evening. The chief topic of discussion at the ensuing business meeting concerned plans for the Twenty-third Grand Chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity, to be held at the Mayflower Hotel during the coming December.

Sigma Kappa entertained at an unusually peppy dance at Beaver Dam Country Club, on Thursday, October 13.

A very successful and novel bridge-luncheon was given by Sigma Kappa, on Saturday, October 15th, with the hostesses adding much to the Oriental atmosphere in their Mandarin coats.

Something quite unusual by way of entertainment was featured by Sigma Kappa on Tuesday, October 18th, in the form of a Forty-niners party at the home of Katherine Scrivener.

The Tau Club wishes to announce the addition of Maurice Friedman of Bridgeport, Conn.; Benjamin Goldman of Washington, D. C.; Morris Klatzkin of Washington, D. C.; and Paul Lippman of New York City to its membership roster.

Alpha Delta Theta was hostess at a very enjoyable theater party on Monday evening, October 10. This was followed by supper at Rita Denicke's apartment.

POTENTIAL PROFS

No. 2—John Thompson Crum

"Daddy!"
"Well?"
"If I go to bed early tonight, and get plenty of sleep, will you let me play against Fordham tomorrow?"
"No, Jack. We can get along without you tomorrow, but you keep in training, son, for I may have to call on you during the Penn State game. Now run on to bed."

This the reporter imagines to have been the conversation between Coach "Maud" Crum and his son, Jack, aged fourteen months, on the eve of the Fordham fray. And John Thompson Crum probably followed the orders of his coach and father, and trotted obediently off, as a good star would.

Jack, as he is called, is a husky youngster, looking "just like his dad," with the same blue eyes, brown hair, and sturdy constitution. He uses his kiddie car daily as a bucking machine, and keeps in perfect trim, as is witnessed by the fact that he tips the scales at twenty-five pounds. After he adds about eighteen or nineteen years and one hundred and fifty pounds, Jack expects to help Princeton in either the line or backfield, depending on where assistance is needed.

Meanwhile, to the reporter who succeeded in borrowing a photograph from the young Mr. Crum, the following order were issued:

"You tell those people that my picture was taken nearly four months ago, and I'm lots heavier now."

HISTORY CLUB PLANS FOR THE COMING YEAR

Prominent Men To Speak At Monthly Meetings; Social Functions To Be Held

The first meeting of the present school year of the History Club was held at 8.30 p. m. on October 18, in Room 27, Corcoran Hall.

Plans for the new year were discussed and the Vice-President of the club, A. L. Russell, suggested that outside speakers be asked to appear on future programs which are carried out at each of the monthly meetings. This suggestion was commented by the members present and several people were mentioned to address the club, among whom was Father Walsh, Regent of Georgetown University Foreign Service School, who has spent two years in Russia. It is hoped that Father Walsh and other authorities on History can be secured from time to time.

All Students Invited

The club is confident that the meetings of the year will hold much of interest not only to its members but to other students of the University as well, who are cordially invited to attend any of the meetings, which are held on the third Tuesday evening of each month.

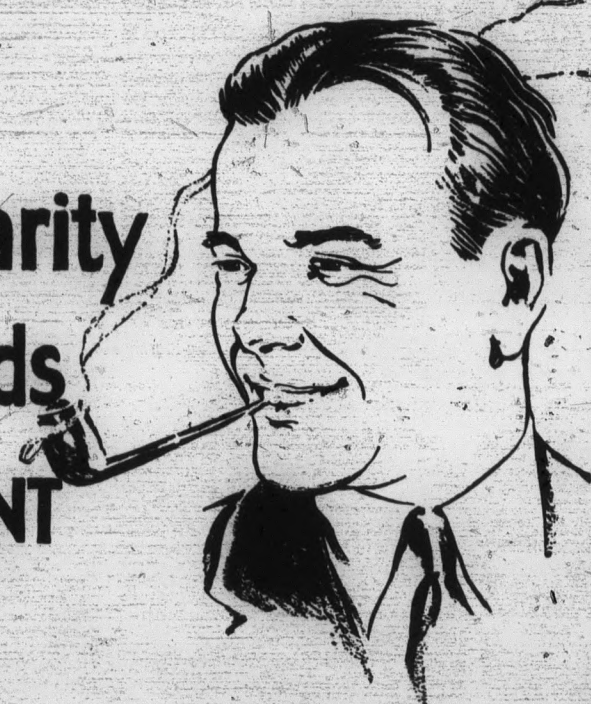

It is expected that social functions will be stressed this season. Card parties, picnics, and other forms of entertainment are planned. The first picnic probably will be held on Sunday, November 13. A definite announcement as to the exact time and place probably will be made in the Hatchet next week.

The annual election of officers of the club will be held at the next meeting on November 15. The present officers are: Oro Marshino, president; A. L. Russell, Vice-President; Miss Mildred Green, Recording Secretary; Miss Anna L. Ericson, Publicity Secretary; Miss Estelle Pitman, Corresponding Secretary; and Joe O'Connor, Treasurer.

Familiarity breeds CONTENT

THE longer you smoke Prince Albert, the more convinced you become that it is the most satisfying tobacco that ever nestled in the bowl of a jimmy-pipe. You get a brand-new thrill every time you open the tidy red tin and breathe that wonderful aroma.

And when you tuck a load into the business-end of your pipe, light up, and open the drafts—say, Mister! Cool as a letter from home, telling you to cut down your expenses. Sweet as an unexpected check in the next mail. Sweet and mild and long-burning.

So mild, in fact, that it never bites your tongue or parches your throat, no matter how swift your pipe-pace. Yet it has that full, rich tobacco-body that lets you know you're smoking and makes you glad you are. Try Prince Albert, Fellows, and get the joy that's due you! Buy a tin today and get started!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Hatchetmen Will Invade Ursinus Saturday

COLONIALS MEET URSINUS ELEVEN IN COMING GAME

George Washington's "Iron Men" Hold Long Drill on Potomac Park Field

BEARS BOAST STUBBORN DEFENSIVE AGGREGATION

Hatchetmen Are in Good Condition After Downing Fordham; Ursinus May Surprise

By PERN E. HENNINGER

With a record of four victories and no defeats, and having scored 65 points to six by their opponents, the fighting "Iron" Colonials are now priming for their clash with Ursinus at Collegeville, Pa., this Saturday.

Cochran's men are all in good condition after their hard game against Fordham last Saturday. Sanders, Lopenan, and Perry, who sustained minor injuries last Saturday, were with the squad yesterday when they held a long signal drill and dummy scrimmage on the Potomac Park field.

Ursinus will present substantially the same team which faced the Buff and Blue at Central High School Stadium last year when George Washington defeated them by only three points, the score being 3 to 3. Moyer, flashy Ursinus quarterback, who starred last year with his fine punting and passing, is again at his old position this season and may again give the Crummen trouble if he is not watched.

Bears Lose to Lehigh

It will be remembered that last year the Collegeville eleven presented a strong defense in tight places. The fact that George Washington gained 412 yards during the game, 232 yards of which were gained on 14 completed out of 23 attempted forward passes, indicates that their opponents successfully strengthened in the shadow of their goal.

To date Ursinus has won three of its five games, having scored 75 points to 35 for their opponents. Their victories coming over Ursinus, Delaware, and Franklin and Marshall, while they were defeated by a margin of a few points by Dickinson and Lehigh. Last Saturday Dickinson was able to defeat Ursinus by a 12 to 7 score only after a rally in the last quarter which resulted in the winning touchdown.

Expect Little Trouble

The present indications are that unless George Washington becomes careless or overconfident they should have little trouble in registering a win in Saturday's game.

The following are the respective line-ups which are expected to oppose each other at the opening of the game:

Ursinus	G. W. U.
Johnson	L. E. Perry
Black	L. T. Hartko
McGarvey	L. G. Athey

Challenges Issued by Manager Of Men's Rifle Team to Eastern Colleges

NINE VARSITY MEN BACK

Squad Expected To Emerge Victorious From Hard Schedule By Coach Stokes

Challenges have been issued by George B. Campbell, manager of the Men's Rifle Team, to several Eastern college teams for a series of telegraphic matches, beginning after November 15 and running one a week until Christmas.

Although the challenged teams are all of first class calibre, the champion Colonial Men's team expects to come through with a clean slate, as out of the ten men on last year's squad, nine have returned to school. These veteran members are: George B. Campbell, manager; Frank T. Parsons, Jr., captain; W. R. Lane, R. A. Leighy, S. S. Prentiss, R. G. Radue, H. E. Riley, J. A. Schrieker, and F. N. Strawbridge. A number of excellent prospects will compete for the tenth place on the team.

I. N. R. A. Matches Start in January. Beginning after the first of January and continuing until late in March, the Intercollegiate National Rifle Association League matches will be held. At the conclusion of the League matches, shoulder-to-shoulder matches will be shot on a tour of the country.

Walter Stokes, former champion of the world, who is coaching the team again this year, looks forward to a very successful season for the Buff and Blue sharpshooters. Frank T. Parsons, Jr., George B. Campbell, Robert Leighy and Hugh Riley are the four who with Jack Plugge, now at Massachusetts Tech, won the Eastern Intercollegiate Shoulder-to-Shoulder Championship.

FROSH COLONIALS SWAMP SWAVELEY

Kid Hatchettes Upset Army-Navy Prep to Tune of 30 to 0

YEARLINGS IN NO DANGER

Berkowitz and Terry Star in Backfield; Rangely and Heier Outstanding Linemen

George Washington's freshman eleven again proved that it is capable of imitating its big brother, the varsity, last Friday, when it journeyed to Manassas, Virginia to upset the Swaveley School to the tune of 30 to 0. Carrying the fight to the Virginians from the first take-off, the kid Hatchettes made themselves right at home in the first stanza by copying six points, following this for a count of twelve before changing goals.

With this yearling, Terry, flinging the spirals, G. W. accounted for two of the markers; the other scores being made through a display of good, hard line-smashing, end-circling play. The lack of toe skill was the one weak factor in Coach Avis' charges.

Outstanding, George Washington backfield stars were Berkowitz and Terry, while the outstanding linemen were Rangely and Heier.

Berkowitz Scores. At no time were the frosh in danger of being scored against by the Army-Navy prep. The first touchdown was made by a series of steady gains, in which the ball was advanced by Smith, Billisly, Terry and Berkowitz, of whom the last-named scored the six points.

Terry made the second touchdown and Smith the third. Terry scored on another, and in the last thirty-five seconds of play Terry passed a neat one to Morrison, who touched it down over the goal line.

BEMIS IN EUROPE FOR 2-YEAR TRIP, SENT BY LIBRARY

To Supervise Photostating of Diplomatic Documents for Congressional Library

APPOINTED PROFESSOR IN DIPLOMATIC HISTORY

Takes Wife and Daughter on Extensive Research Tour to Eleven Foreign Capitals

Dr. Samuel Flagg Bemis, recently the head of the History department here, is now in London, England, his first stop in his two-year travel of Europe for the Library of Congress. Dr. Bemis had just been appointed to the Professorship in Diplomatic History at the Library of Congress because of his proficiency in historical research. In Europe he will supervise the photostating of diplomatic correspondence, and will return the photographs of these historical documents to the Library.

After being in London for three months, he sails for Paris. From Paris he travels to Rome, and thence to Berlin. It is expected that work to be done in these capitals will take his first year. His next and last year will be spent in Spain, Belgium, Holland, Russia, Hungary, Norway, and Sweden.

A short time before he came to George Washington University, Dr. Bemis won a $3,000 prize, offered by the Knights of Columbus, for his book entitled "Jay's Treaty." This year he won the $2,000 Pulitzer Prize for history by his work named "Pinckney's Treaty." The fact that he won these, and that he is the editor of a ten-volume series of essays called "The American Secretaries of State and Their Diplomacy," helped him secure his position in the Government.

Dr. Bemis procured a leave-of-absence from George Washington on his appointment at the library. It is therefore expected that he will return, although it has not been determined whether he will have back his old position as head of History.

Takes Family
Dr. Bemis slipped quietly out of the life of the University October 11, taking with him his wife and daughter. He and his family expect to return to Washington for a brief visit at the end of the first year abroad.

While Dr. Bemis is traveling in Europe, Dr. W. Stull Holt is taking his place as teacher. Professor George Morton Churchill has been advanced to chairman of the History Department.

G. W. Welcomes Western Wanderers Who Waited Way Home For Keeps

Dr. H. A. H. McNitt, '26, has returned to George Washington as a resident physician of the University Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. McNitt were married immediately after Dr. McNitt's graduation in June, and then went out West, where they had many unusual experiences. One that seems to cause the most surprise is their finding of three bears on the roof of their automobile after they had left it in the mountains while they took a short hike.

During the first year of their sojourn in the West Dr. McNitt was stationed at the Fitzsimons General Hospital in Denver, Colorado. This being an army hospital, Dr. McNitt was ranked as first lieutenant.

While at Pike's Peak Dr. McNitt was detailed to take care of a Boy Scout Camp in the mountains during a diphtheria epidemic.

Fourteen months he practiced in his own office at Le Reno, Oklahoma, often being called out on long and lonely trips.

The journey home extended over three months, three months in which the autoists never got in any rain but were stuck in the mud more than once. Their trip included all the famous old landmarks and even such new ones as Hollywood.

Mrs. McNitt graduated from the Department of Arts and Sciences in 1923 as Geraldine Barlow. While a student here she wrote for the Hatchet and also drew for the Ghost.

Now that they are back in Washington Dr. McNitt and his wife plan to stay here, where women are ladies and men are gentlemen, or where women aren't men and men aren't beasts or what have you.

BUSINESS OFFICE HOURS

For the convenience of those students who find it impossible to remain until nine o'clock to transact business with the cashier's office, that office is now opened at 8.30 a. m. and remains open, as usual, until 6 p. m. On Government pay-days and the day following the cashier's office remains open until 6.30 p. m.

The Information Bureau and telephone switchboard is open from 8.30 a. m. until 6.30 p. m.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB MEETING

The Girls' Glee Club held its second meeting on Friday, October 21, Miss Estelle Wentworth is planning the work for the year, which will include a cantata not yet selected. Later in the year, the club expects to give a number of concerts.

Miss Wentworth urges that more girls will report for tryouts for pianist, as that position has not been filled.

TEACHERS PAID LESS THAN UNION MEMBERS

National Survey Shows That Union Laborers Receive Twice as Much as Educators

Superintendents, principals, and teachers throughout the United States are paid an average salary of only one-half that received by trade union members, it is reported by the research division of the National Education Association.

The average salaries paid to educators is $1,275 a year, while union members receive an average wage of $2,502. The statistics reveal also that teachers receive less than those in other fields of endeavor.

The average earning of workers in 25 representative manufacturing industries is $1,389, and United States Government employees receive $1,809. The average yearly salary for all gainfully employed in the United States is $2,010, according to the report. In 1914 this amount was $836 a year, compared to $525 for teachers.

Dr. Moss Opens Office in Medical Building

He Plans to Study Effect of Bad Physical Conditions on Mental Efficiency

Dr. F. A. Moss, of the George Washington University Psychology Department, has opened an office for the practice of medicine in the Washington Medical Building. Dr. Moss says that his major interest is in psychology, and that he plans to keep up that work.

The purpose in opening this office is to enable him to make a more thorough study of the physical and physiological basis of mental life, to study at first hand the effect of disease processes on mental efficiency. It is this same motive that has led Dr. Moss to accept the position as visiting staff psychiatrist at Gallinger Hospital. Some investigations are to be started immediately.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY BY NEWMAN CLUB OCT. 28

Plans for the Halloween party to be given by the Newman Club at the Brighton Hotel on Friday, October 28, have been completed. Tickets for the affair are $1 per couple. Dancing will be from 9.30 to 12.30 p. m. Decorations and refreshments are in charge of Melita Chavez, James Hoffman and Nash Knapp. The reception committee is composed of Marie Collins, Bernardine Horn and Bernard McBride.

All Catholic students of the University who desire to be placed on the mailing list of the club to receive notices of meetings, lectures and social events should notify the Secretary, Mary Miller, 1719 Thirty-fifth Street N. W.

FROSH NOT ERRAND-BOYS

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., (IP).—Hazing must stop at Wesleyan according to President J. L. McCaughy, who declares that freshmen come to college to study and not to run errands for the upperclassmen.

Demure Damsel Demurs Until She Discovers Orange Sweaters Are Really Buff

Buff may include any color from gray to orange, as one fair G. W. co-ed noticed at the George Washington-Fordham game.

"Why, I don't see our team," she worried. "There they are," said the Boy Friend, pointing to a group of flaming orange jerseys.

"No, of course not. They are orange and our team is buff. Oh! I suppose that dark red is ours, but that's a funny buff."

Thus she sat during the game, intent on the maroon squad's playing. Not until G. W. made its first touchdown did she realize that the orange sweaters belonged to the Buff and Blue. "Listen to all the people yelling. Why," as an idea struck her, "that orange is buff and those are our men."

Final Plans Are Made For Navy Yard Trip

Groups to Meet at Entrance of Yard October 27 at Nine O'clock For Inspection Tour

Final plans have been made for the trip to the Navy Yard on October 27. All engineers and any other students who can be invited to meet with Professors Platt and Cruikshanks at nine o'clock at the entrance to the yard. The professors are guides from the Navy Yard will lead the groups in a complete tour of the yard.

Those who cannot come in the morning but who can visit the yard in the afternoon should meet with Professor Johnson at three o'clock in the afternoon at the entrance.

There will be poured in the morning a heat of iron and a heat of steel and in the afternoon a heat of steel at the foundry. Other important points of interest will be the President's yacht, the secretary of the Navy's yacht, a destroyer, and possibly a British cruiser.

HATCHET ELEVEN PULLS SURPRISE ON FORDHAM

tion time would have been slightly over thirty minutes. This was perhaps the only marbling effect on an otherwise interesting and closely contested game.

Local Line Powerful
The line play of the locals was the outstanding defensive feature with the Colonial front guard smothering the enemy attack consistently. The fact that this important cog in the machine has learned to work as a unit leads one to believe that the Crummen stand a wonderful chance to complete their difficult schedule undefeated. Outside of the mention of Walker, center, as the "big gun," the other linemen all played with equal brilliance, and alertness.

The generalship of Sanders, the punting and plunging of Stehman; the ground gaining of Clapper and Lopeman and the oval-tossing of Sapp, all deserve highest praise. In other words, every Colonial starred.

Fordham had its threat in Jim Delany, rangey full back, who haved his team further embarrassment by punting out of danger when the Crummen came close to the "big stripe," otherwise referred to as the goal line.

Other prominent men in the visiting line-up were Capt. Bill Feaster, at left tackle, "Speed" Baut and "Shift" Neffian, substitute backfielders.

The game started off with Delany kicking to his rival punter, Stehman. A first down soon resulted giving the Colonials confidence at the outset. The Maroon held the Colonials, forcing them to punt. From then on through the remainder of the period the ball see-sawed up and down the field, with the score 0-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Walker Snares Pass
The second period produced better results from a G. W. standpoint as the air game proved fruitful to the extent of a touchdown via two successive passes, with Carey finally crossing the line.

The third quarter saw much action but no score, both teams fighting desperately. However, the final period was not long under way before Walker intercepted Delany's pass to run for the last score.

Believe it or not, this is how it happened.

ENGLISH METHOD OF DEBATE INTRODUCED

Columbian Debaters Use British Style in Preparation for Coming International Debate

The English style of debate was used in the Columbian Debating Society last Friday night as a preliminary to the international debate with the Empire squad.

R. L. Parsons opened the session with a motion, Resolved: "That the most effective attitude toward war is an uncompromising pacifism." James Kirkland, who will discuss this subject with the Britishers, opposed the motion as would be done in Parliament.

Speakers Questioned

During the speeches by the presenter and opposer of the motion, the members of the audience were allowed to heckle and question. After the motions had been duly defended and opposed, the meeting was opened to general discussion and a vote cast. The ballot resulted in the motion being carried, which would correspond to a victory for the affirmative in American debate.

Six new members were introduced at this meeting, and the subject for the October 28 debate was chosen. It will be, Resolved: "That the use of private autos in local transportation is an unjustifiable waste." S. N. Deblitz and D. J. Herrell will uphold the affirmative of this, while H. E. Murphy and Rice Herrell will defend the negative.

A. S. C. E. Meeting Is Well Attended

Dean Lapham, Prof. French and Past Presidents Addressed the Chapter

At a well-attended meeting in Stockton Hall Friday, Wentworth B. Clapham, president of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, outlined the plans of the chapter for the coming year. Practically all of the civil engineering students were present, in addition to several graduates.

A special class of membership with a much lower fee has been formed for freshmen this year, in conformity with the rules of the parent body, the American Society of Civil Engineers. No more students will be admitted to full membership until they reach sophomore standing. In all matters connected with the chapter, however, the students have unlimited rights.

Dean Lapham and Professor French, guests of the evening, addressed the chapter. Past presidents made interesting talks. Students will be assigned topics for five-minute discussions at each meeting. The idea is to cause as many of the members, particularly freshmen, to take part in every meeting.

DR. CHURCHILL TELLS OF TRIP

Speaks to International Relations Club on English Isles

FINDS HIS NAME IN ABBEY

Mrs. Burd Elected President of Club; Next Meeting Thursday, November 17

"When traveling, spend your time in seeing one country, rather than dividing it among many," was the advice of Dr. Churchill, in telling of his trip through the British Isles, at a meeting of the International Relations Club last Thursday. He mentioned many interesting facts, one of which was his finding on the Isle of Wight, an epitome of English history—stones dating from the Paleolithic and Neolithic Ages. He also visited castles there of the Saxon, Norman, and Tudor period.

On arriving, Dr. Churchill went up the south coast of England, through the channel which he followed to the Thames. Continuing his journey up the Thames, he landed at London, where he spent some time in viewing the public buildings, visiting both buildings of Parliament. At Westminster Abbey, he was astounded to find his own name inscribed in the wall.

Covers England and Scotland

From London, he went to the Cathedral at Ely in Cambridgeshire, and then on to Edinburgh where he visited another famous old castle. He saw also the old home of John Knox in the Cannongate and the Grass Market. He described crossing the Trossachs, a narrow, beautifully wooded glen extending from Loch Achray to Loch Katrine, on his way to Glasgow, and the beautiful scenery there; thence, through the Wordsworth country to Strathclyde, the home of Shakespeare.

He liked the day that he spent at Southampton, but was so pleased with the highlands of Devonshire that he is planning to spend more time among these heather-clad uplands, while he extends through the borders of Somerset, making further studies of the Saxon conquest and of the primeval antiquities, among the most noted of which is the Cromlech, known as the Spilster's rock, at Drewsteignton.

The club is expecting to hold monthly meetings, the next one of which will be held Thursday, November 17. Mrs. Burd was elected president and appointed a committee to revise the constitution. Each meeting, it is hoped to have some speaker, either one of the students or some one who is interested in the work of the club. The Carnegie Endowment is sending the society monthly news bulletins.

Snow Hill Shines in Reflected Glory; Denny Responsible

Snow Hill has been put on the map! And what's more, Milton Lee Dennis, erstwhile business manager of The Hatchet, now sojourning in France on government business, put it there!

For the benefit of those few whose geography does not include Snow Hill, it might be explained that this thriving little community is situated on the Eastern shore of sunny Maryland.

Those who are acquainted with Denny know that he is proud of his home town; and furthermore, his home town is proud of Denny. Witness the hurry-up call sent to The Hatchet last week via Western Union containing this urgent message: "Send out of Milton Dennis to us next mail."

The Hatchet, of course, complied post haste, thereby contributing its bit to the undying fame of Snow Hill and Denny.

Panhel Association Calls Attention to Rules

Non-Communication Period Runs From 6 P. M. October 29 to 9 A. M. November 1

The Pan-Hellenic Association has called attention to the rules governing rushing by the women's Greek letter fraternities on the campus. The rushing rules are quoted herewith:

1. The rushing season is to begin after the "Little Sister Movement," which ends October 8.

2. Rushing will last from October 9 until 6 o'clock, October 29.

3. Non-communication period will be from 6 p. m., October 29 to 9 a. m. November 1.

4. November 1 will be "Promise Day."

5. Formal pledging will be held in February (date not set) and the promises of those whose scholarship average is not two-thirds "C" will be automatically broken.

6. There is to be a financial limit of $200.

7. The total cost of all rushing parties, with the exception of luncheons in the fraternity rooms with four rushers, is included in this sum. At such luncheons only the cost of the rushers' lunches is deducted. Any number of such luncheons may be held, but if more than four rushers are present the total cost is deducted.

8. With this exception there is no limitation on rushing.

9. There shall be one closed date for each fraternity, to be chosen according to scholarship rating.

10. These rules apply to all pledges, alumnae and patrons.

RED LIGHTS FOR ABSENT-MINDED PROFESSORS

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (IP).—It long has been a theory that the college professor is absent minded, but it has taken Wittenberg College authorities to be the first to act on that assumption.

Professors in the chem labs here no longer will forget to turn off the ventilating system when they leave the labs. For a red light hanging right over the exit announces that the fans are still running.

As yet no professor has been seen standing, scratching his head and wondering what it is that he has forgotten to remember.

TUBERCULAR PATIENTS DISTURB SERENADERS

TUSCON, Ariz. (IP).—Students at the University of Arizona are beginning to wonder if all this advertising about Tuscon's being the land of promise for T. B. victims is a paying proposition.

Recently the police department put a ban on mid-night serenading by the university students. When the reason was sought, it was given: "Too many people chasing the cure who are disturbed."

The Arizona Wildcat commented editorially that those who have T. B. are continually "gripping" anyway and shouldn't be considered.

Instruments Click, Cheering Section Explodes, As Fordham Is Turned Back

Elmer Louis Kayser Yells "I Told You So"—Goodfellowship and Spirit Prevail in Buff and Blue Stands—Mascots Fail To Appear at Crucial Battle

By HERBERT E. ANGEL

George Washington is getting into the big league class in football, if the recent argument with Fordham may be taken as an example.

No less than six telegraphic instruments clicked continuously throughout the game, from a place of honor in the press box, carrying the news to the world, and more especially to glum New York sports editors, of the downfall of the Maroon. Nearly a score of reporters both from local and distant cities, were grouped together around Dave Allshouse, whose broken ankle kept him from the Colonial line-up, and a Fordham man.

These two, without removing their eyes from the playing field, would call to the waiting newspapermen the names of the runner and the tackler in every play. In turn the scribes would dash off scrawly sentences and pass the bits of paper to the telegraph operators, who would transmit the play-by-play account to afternoon dailies in time for the final editions.

Only occasionally was there an interruption to the constant clatter of the keys—when the George Washington cheering section exploded, drowning all other sounds in the vicinity. A source of annoyance to the operators was an ardent G. W. Man, who with an equally energetic assistant, alternated in spinning a huge, clogged noise-maker, similar to those used on Halloween. Despite the hard and stern stares of the telegraphers, the rattle continued to the final whistle.

Cheerleaders Work Hard

Jerry Slicker, and his assistants, Darrell Crain, Ford Young and Brad Swope had a busy afternoon with a buff-and-blue-capped cheering section, estimated to number between five hundred and a thousand, not to mention other G. W.ites scattered throughout the stadium who joined in the cheers.

The section was never satisfied. Immediately following every yell, during plays, and between plays, groups here and there would yell, "We wanna yell! Hey, Jerry, let's go!" So enthusiastic was the group that even the new chant, uttered with the greatest possible discord, failed to disturb it.

"That's all right," explained a hoarse rooster, "There's too much weight on the end of George Washington, but we'll get it better next time. Oh, Jerry!"

Bits of paper, caps, megaphones whirled down on the sidelines after the first touchdown, and as the noise subsided, a cry went up, "We wanna sing!" In vain the cheerleaders tried to dissuade the roosters—there was no song leader, there was no band, there was no pitch pipe—how could they sing? No arguments availed. "We wanna sing," complained the throng.

"We Wanna Sing"

After just one false start, "Hail to the Buff and Blue," was put under way, regardless of the lack of proper singing facilities. Later in the game, a small bunch of ex-barbershop tenors chimed in on a hearty rendition of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," with the naughty words unpurged, much to the amusement of nearby roosters, and the assumed shock of the co-eds.

During the half, Secretary E. L. Kayser appeared before the cheering section, and in response to cries of "Speech, speech," bowed, refused the proffered megaphone, and said:

"I'm not going to make a speech; (cheers) remember what I told you last night, and the night before. I told you it would happen (pointing to the 6-0 score) and as you know, I'm a better prophet than a historian."

After the cheers had subsided, a freshman yelled, "I wanna touchdown!" Then the Colonial eleven trotted on the field, faces set and determined. "That's all right, frosh," comforted a soph beside him, "You'll get it." And he did.

Fordham's team was supported by a large contingent of roosters from the Big City. Before the game they contented themselves with making disparaging remarks about the small Buff and Blue squad, and one bragged that he had placed a dollar on Fordham to win.

Loses Money

When Fordham failed to gain in the first series of downs, and the Colonials crashed through for long gains; he was heard to remark, "Ten cents of my dollar are gone, now." Toward the end of the last quarter, the same Maroon rooster muttered mournfully, "Heck, ninety-eight cents of my dollar have gone now."

Deevey of Fordham, and Hartzog of George Washington were injured on the same play, and Deevey received the first G. W. cheer. "That's pretty white of them to cheer our man first," remarked a Fordham man.

"Buffie" who was purchased as mascot instead of two bull pups as originally intended, was absent much to the disgust of the cheering contingent. The college-airedale was barred from the stadium at the request of members of the team, who were superstitious.

But when a team plays football a Colonials did, no one is needed to back the hearty support of the roosters.

Dave Allshouse is a Pathetic Figure as He Sees Fordham Game

Of all the students who witnessed the George Washington-Fordham football clash, probably none suffered such exquisite mental torture as did Captain Dave "Reds" Allshouse, who watched the game from the press box, on the fifty-yard line.

Confined to the stands with what medical men termed "an oblique fracture of the fibula," in other words a broken leg, the befreckled captain shouted his advice and exhortations to the team, most of which were in the direction of Acting Captain "Ben" Walker, but it was like howling into a vast sea of noise.

During the few times that George Washington men fumbled, and when Stehman was "roughed" on the kick-off, "Reds" was obviously in real pain. As the game went on, he identified many of the Colonials active in plays for the benefit of the New York newspaper men. As a reporter, he was a tower of strength to the scribes.

But it was evident that where he wanted to be was out on the right end, in the midst of the football field.

G. W. Utah Students Are Invited to Ball

Utah State Society Gives Halloween Ball; Junius Romney of Law School President

Utah students who are attending George Washington University and any of their friends who may care to attend, will be interested to know the Utah State Society is giving a Halloween ball at the Washington Hotel on Saturday night, October 29. Several of the George Washington students from Utah are among the officers of the club, Junius Romney of the Law School being president, W. H. Willey of Arts and Sciences, and Weston Vernon and Orval Hafen of the Law School, functioning in other capacities. Dancing at the party on October 29 is scheduled from 9 to 12 o'clock, and entertainment is to be provided during a short intermission.

TRANSIT COMPANY RUNS TWO SPECIAL COACHES

The Washington Rapid Transit Company is now running special coaches for the convenience of George Washington students, and if the number of passengers warrants, another bus may be added to the route, according to the company.

These buses leave Twentieth and G Streets N. W. at 6:05 and 6:10 p. m., and go to Sixteenth and Buchanan Streets and Thirtieth and Iowa Avenue. The Washington Rapid Transit Company has indicated that if enough students patronize this bus, another bus may be added to the route, leaving Twentieth and G Streets at 7:10 p. m.

GHOST APPEARS ON NOVEMBER 1

November Issue of Comic Magazine is "Football Number"

COVER BY ROWLAND LYON

Winner of Sorority Circulation Drive to be Announced in the Ghost

The "Football Number" of the George Washington Ghost is scheduled to make its appearance on Tuesday, November 1, according to the George Washington Press Club, publishers of the magazine.

The cover has been drawn by the art editor, Rowland Lyon, and while its exact nature cannot be divulged at the present time, it is said to show a great contrast as compared with last month's cover. The entire contents of the magazine, even to the advertisements, are written in the spirit of football, and many good drawings and humorous articles on gridiron life are promised.

Art Contest Winners

The members of the art staff who have drawings in this issue are Marion Stewart, Helen Buchalter Charles E. Shreve, Peggy Somerville, Louise Buddeke, Sally Osborn, Curran de Bruler and Rodney Tattersall. One dollar for each drawing accepted is being paid by the publishers of the Ghost.

The feature departments on Books, Theater and Timely Tunes will be represented as usual. The Timely Tunes department is something new in the field of college comics, and has attracted unusual attention among the phonograph companies. On the Theater page Jack Milligan will prove that, contrary to the usual assertion, Washington receives comparatively better theatrical offerings than almost any other city in the country.

Circulation Drive Over

The sorority circulation drive, which was held from October 3 to 17, was participated in by the majority of the sororities, and was very successful. The winner of the Ghost cup will be announced in the Football Number.

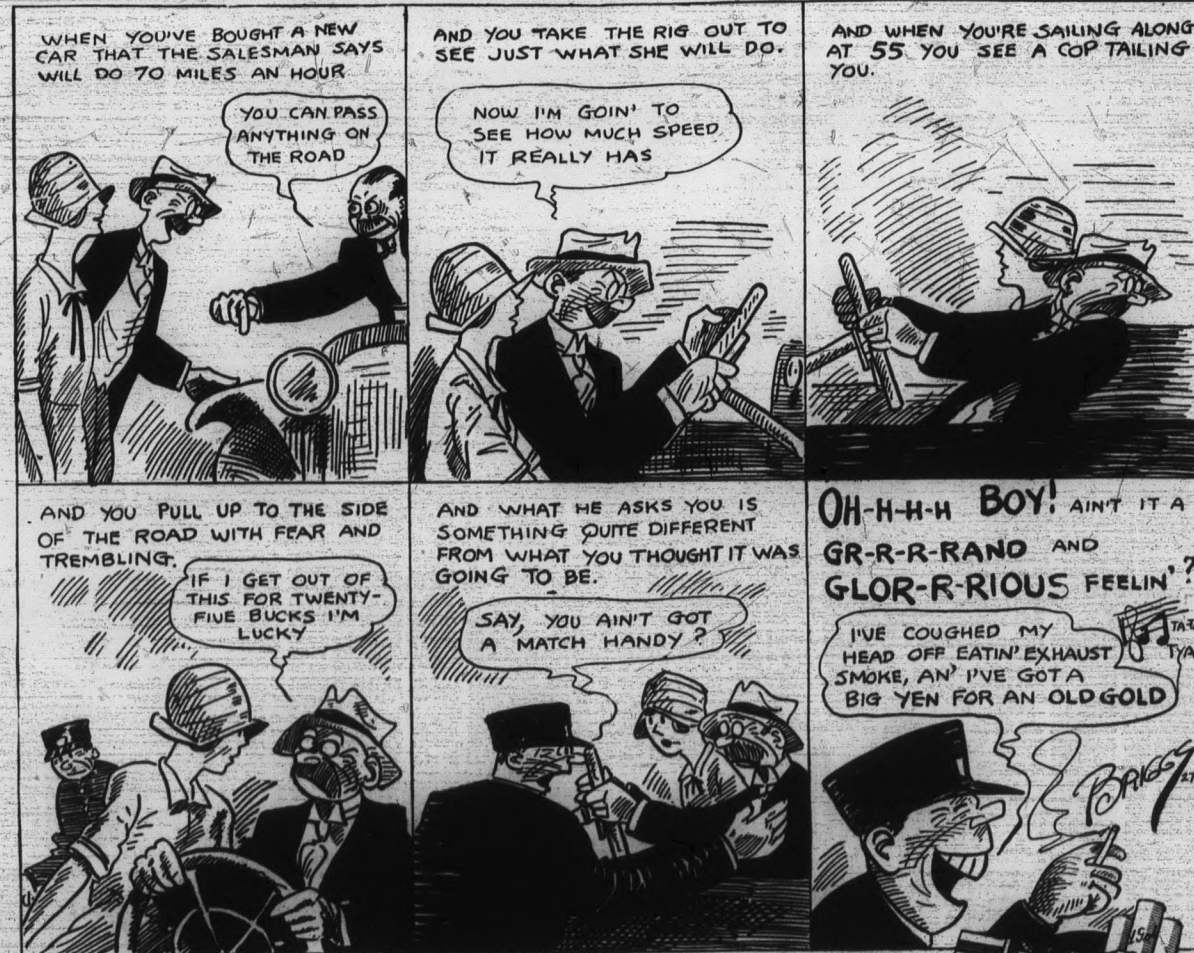

Subscriptions are still being received at the Hatchet Office, the price being $1.50 for the remaining seven issues of the Ghost, delivered by mail before they are placed on sale at the school.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Vol. 23, No. 5 October 27, 1926

Twenty-five husky Sophomores are dragged through a powerful stream of water from the nozzle of a fire hose in a revival of the time honored Tug-o-War staged near the Lincoln Memorial. The hated "Freshmen Regulations" (Editors note: now extinct) are removed by the failure of the Sophomores in the trial by combat.

George Washington University gridmen run up against a snag in the form of the William and Mary seven at Williamsburg, Va., losing to the Indians by a score of 14 to 0. Stehman unable to play because of a strained tendon received in practice; this robs the Colonials of many possible points.

Hatchmen prepare for Penn State, are not overconfident.

Riflemen face early matches of stiff schedule; will meet Naval Academy.

Authorities plan to merge George Washington University Hospital with Garfield Hospital; one of the main features is to be the erection of a large medical school near the present Garfield site.

Hatchet suggests that the George Washington University football team be called, instead of "Hatchettes," "Hatchmen," "Hatchets," "Crummen," "Axemen," "Tongmen," and other undignified names, the worthy appellation of "Colonials."

Inter-fraternity series of basketball games begins; twenty-five games on schedule.

George Washington comes second with 41 points in the triangular cross-country run. William and Mary is first with 22 points.

John Van Druten, popular author, speaks in chapel before 300 students, telling how to "Make the Play."

New neophytes of the various fraternities number 98.

Coach Brewer's newly-formed Freshmen grid team wins its initial game at the Tidal Basin field when it defeats St. John's School by a score of 7-0.

BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN GRIDMAN GETS HIS MAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (IP and Sou'wester).—Lorin King believes in getting a man every time.

During the Birmingham-Southern game Lorin arose to find everyone of his opponents sprawling on the ground. Lorin was in a panic. His orders had been to get his man, and if not his man some man.

He was about to give up when his eye caught the fleeting form of the referee.

King gave chase and downed him inside of ten yards. The referee's remarks did not reach the press box.

GRIDMEN BUY UNIFORM COATS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (IP).—What the well dressed football man should wear off the gridiron has been decided by the gridgers of Marquette University here, who have purchased for themselves heavy overcoats of blue corduroy with soft possum collars which will, when pulled up, cover the head. A large black "M" adorns the backs of the coats. They were designed especially for the team.

President Marvin Takes Possession Of Ring to Lead Cheering at Smoker

"Louey" Scott, "Roughhouse" Parker, "Unmerciful" Shoemaker, "Tommy" Shoemaker Winners of Boxing Bout; Freshman Team Cheered for Victory Over Swavely

With President Marvin in the boxing ring, cheer leader and the Varsity football team in the ring for inspiration, George Washington University yelled itself hoarse at the "stag" Pep Smoker in the gym last Friday night. The din of screeches, yells, cheers, and whistles, characterized by Hartzog, Varsity man, in a short speech during the evening as "such cheering as I never dreamed of hearing," followed as a result of President Marvin climbing into the ring and declaring that George Washington students did not know how to cheer, and calling for "a real cheer." It lasted for minutes and was stopped at last only by Prexy himself in order to continue the smoker.

Even "Buffle," G. W. U. dog mascot, who was chained to a ring corner, howled.

Fully half a thousand men students and two dozen members of the faculty who attended the smoker were roused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm for the Fordham game the following day.

Fresh Team Cheered
The smoker started with the entrance of the elated Freshmen team which had just returned from a clean-cut victory over Swavely by a score of 30-0. Cheers were given the Fresh team as the score was announced.

The entertainment was begun with a snappy imitation of a night club orchestra by four little colored boys. With a "uke," a cymbal, drumsticks, a kazoo and a wooden box, they performed very cleverly.

The Glee Club followed. Several song selections were very vociferously applauded. The club gave several encores.

Printed cards with G. W. cheers were handed out. The Varsity football team was then herded into the ring and the cheers were practiced on each individual man.

Here the program was interrupted. President Marvin, who had been listening quietly, climbed into the ring and, holding his hat high in air, gently derided the students for their weak voices.

"I have been asked to speak tonight," said the President, "but I am going to ask you to do that vocal exercise for me. You don't know how to cheer and you're going to learn right now. Now give these men a real cheer."

The phrase, "the house was brought down," hardly describes the noise that followed. After it subsided, President Marvin said, "That's fairly good."

Hartzog Predicts Victory

Speeches were then given by Athey and Hartzog of the Varsity. Athey predicted a 20-point victory over Fordham.

"Billy" Whipp of the Racquet Club, noted mentor of the ring, was then introduced as the referee for the bouts to follow. With a few introductory words of praise for the fighting qualities of George Washington's football team he announced the first bout of the evening.

The bout was between two light-heavyweights, "Bluff" Johnson, weight 168, and "Louey" Scott, weight 164. This bout was awarded Scott. Johnson had been knocked down by a right to the stomach and, waiting on one knee, he jumped up on the tenth count but was declared counted out by Referee Whipp because one of his gloves was still on the floor when the count was completed.

The second bout of the evening was another light-heavy bout between "Roughhouse" Parker, 168, and "Battling" Bill Stanley, 160.

Parker carried the fight all through the first round. Stanley, however, punished him heavily and it was his round. At the end of the round Parker looked wobbly.

Second Round is Slugfest

Second round opened with a half-hearted feint by Parker who received a straight left jab in return. Then a slugfest ensued for the remainder of the round, at the end of which both looked exhausted.

When the bell rang for the 3rd round it found Parker smiling gamely and still carrying the fight. Stanley who was placing his left with painful accuracy and who looked the better of the two, suddenly went down under one of Parker's heavy right swings. Again he went down. The bout ended with Parker rabbit punching the back of Stanley's head in Parker's corner.

The third bout was between "Speed" Walter, 125, and "Unmerciful" Shoemaker, 125, bantams. This bout was pretty evenly matched. Walter appeared the better boxer with a fancy crouch and clever footwork and a smile, but Shoemaker showed himself the more determined fighter. Walter's smile was carried by a cut lip at the end of the first round.

Walter sailed in at the beginning of the 2nd round but soon tired. Shoemaker here missed a k. o. swing. The round ended with Shoemaker playing for the body.

The 3rd round saw both mixing it heavily with Shoemaker carrying the fight. Both were tired when the round ended.

Faculty Smokes Cigars

Here there was a little delay before putting on the next bout and during the lull several of the faculty were observed making fair attempts at smoking cigars. They seemed to be enjoying themselves in spite of this. All had beaming smiles, notably Dean Dowle.

The fourth and last bout of the evening was then put on. It was between two middleweights, "Tommy" Tompkins, 145, and "Tommy" Shoemaker, 140. At the sound of the gong Tompkins rushed to Shoemaker's corner but was stonned short with several hard rights and lefts from Shoemaker. Tompkins covered up and dropped to one knee to clear his head. Getting up, Tompkins rushed again and was forced to cover up once more. Shoemaker then carried the fight, trying hard for a K. O. Shoemaker connected with two uppercuts and Tompkins went down for a count of eight. Shoemaker still pressed his advantage and Tompkins was down and up again as the round ended, with Tompkins clearly outclassed.

Shoemaker rushed to Tompkins' corner at the gong for the 2nd round. Tompkins was forced to cover up by a hail of rights and lefts. Here Referee Whipp called the bout off, announcing "No Contest."

The program was concluded with a rush for the eats.
